

Figure S1. Depmap analysis indicated that knockout of yrdC N6-threonylcarbamoyltransferase domain containing protein could significantly suppress the growth of several non-small cell lung carcinoma cell lines. Grey dots represent wild type cell lines and blue dots represent cell lines with mutated genes.

