

Figure S1. Hematoxylin and eosin staining of the stomach. Cancer cells proliferated mucosally and invaded the submucosa. Lymphatic and venous invasions were also observed (magnification, x20; scale bar, 1 mm).

