The 28th International Symposium on Molecular Medicine (ISMM28)

第28届国际分子医学学术会议

- Theme: Eurasian Integration, A New Era in Molecular Medicine

Organizer

8-10 November 2024

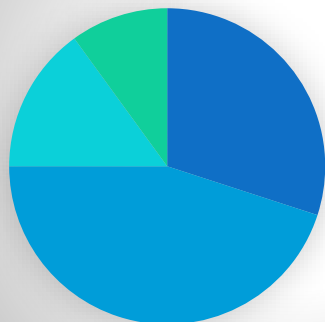

GIBI, Guangzhou, China

Our Goals

Proportion of Attendee Types

- Doctor
- Academic
- Editor&Publisher
- Other

- Strengthen international cooperation and exchange, showcase the latest research achievements
- Enhance public and patient education
- Promote the exchange of Eastern and Western medical cultures, innovate the integration of Chinese and Western medicine

◆ Date: November 8th-10th, 2024

◆ Venue: GIBI, Huangpu District, Guangzhou, China

Conference Highlights

- ◆ European Series of Academic Conferences, held in China for the first time with great potential
- ◆ Expert perspectives, insights into cutting-edge technology trends and development directions
- ◆ Discussion of key challenges and presentation of the latest research findings

Benefits of Cross-Organizational Collaboration

- International Academic Reputation of the Publisher
- International Series of Academic Conferences
- Disseminator of Academic Achievements

- Abundant Teaching and Research Resources
- Advantages in Integrative Medicine Combining Chinese and Western Practices
- Promoter of Traditional Chinese Medicine Culture

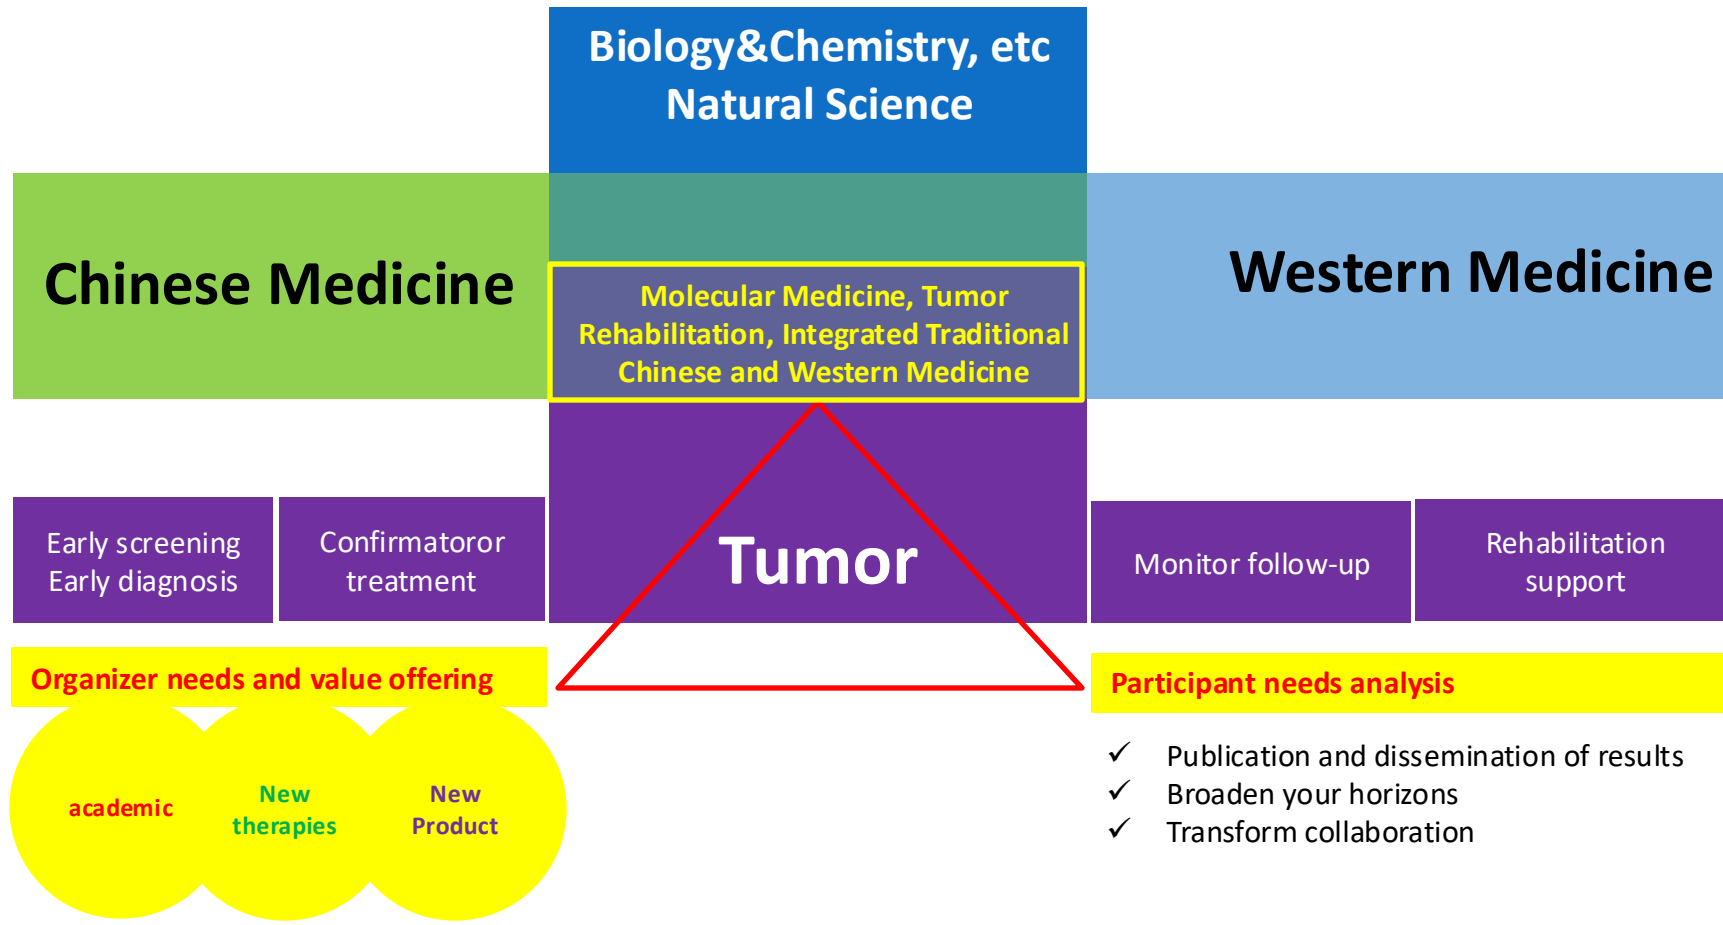

- Local Medical Resources and Partnerships in Guangdong Province
- Dialogue Between Policy and Practice
- Knowledge and Resources in the Clinical and Rehabilitation Fields

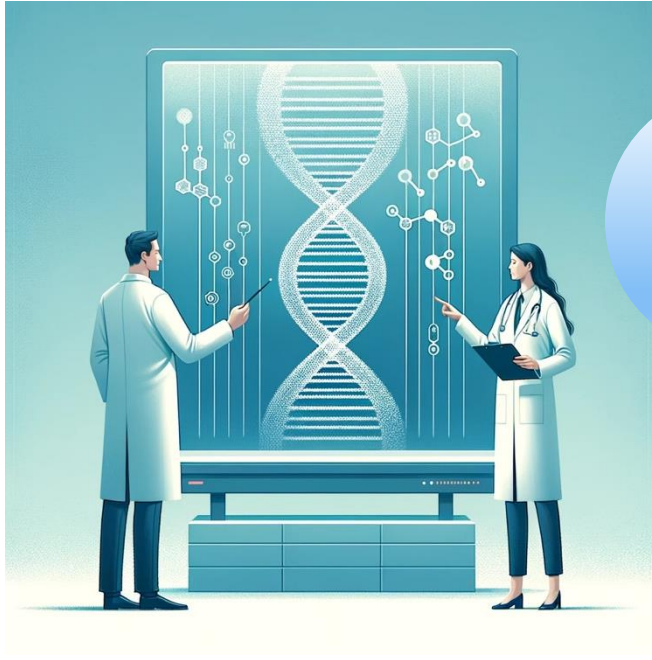

- Base for Industry-Academia-Research Collaboration
- Innovation and Technology-Driven
- Commercialization and Market Support

- A Decade of Industry Expertise
- Professional Support for International Academic Services
- Laboratory and Facilities Assurance
- Capability in Industry Chain Integration
- Capability in Academic Dissemination Operations

The theme of the conference and the target audience

Core topic (the value of molecular medicine in the field of cancer rehabilitation)

Precision medicine

Prognosis
assessment

Targeted therapy and immunotherapy

Reducing recurrence and metastasis

Early screening
and diagnosis

Monitoring of treatment
response

ITCWN for Oncology

- ◆ The application of molecular medicine in tumor rehabilitation provides patients with more precise and effective treatments, helping to improve survival rates and quality of life. With the continuous deepening of molecular medicine research, there will be more breakthroughs in the field of tumor treatment and rehabilitation in the future.

Special Slot A: Visit to Guangzhou Science City Park and Representative Companies

- Promoting Sino-foreign exchange and learning through visits to benchmark enterprises in the park, building an international exchange bridge.

The companies to be visited include:

- Vectorbuilder (云舟生物)
- Yujia International Biomedical Research Institute. (誉嘉国际生物医学研究院)

Special Discussion Session B: The Future of International Biomedical Journals: Innovation and Collaboration

- This seminar intends to invite renowned domestic and international publishers, editors-in-chief/associate editors/section editors of journals to discuss the theme 'The Future of Biomedical Journals: Innovation and Collaboration.' The discussions will focus on global trends in medical journal development, the impact of open access, digital transformation, and strategies and practices to enhance journal influence.

Special Discussion Session B

- Joint publishing between Eastern and Western publishers, resource-sharing strategies, and collaborative approaches to addressing challenges;
- The impact of Open Access (OA) on biomedical journals;
- The digital transformation of medical journals;
- Strategies and practices to enhance journal impact;
- Academic Misconduct and Journal Ethics

Session Chair: Demetrios A. Spandidos, Founder and Editor-in-Chief, Spandidos Publications

Special Discussion Session C: Articles in SCI Journals

Challenges in Publishing

Demetrios Spandidos

Russel J. Reiter

Tang Zhu

Junhua Liao

Invite four senior SCI journal editors or scientists in the field of biomedical sciences to provide guidance on the publication process of academic achievements for biomedical researchers both domestically and internationally, and to discuss the challenges faced in academic research in recent years.

- ❑ Challenges in writing high-quality manuscripts
- ❑ Choose the appropriate journal
- ❑ Follow strict submission guidelines
- ❑ Respond to reviewer feedback
- ❑ Language and expression barriers
- ❑ Publishing ethics issues
- ❑ Time and resource constraints
- ❑ Delays in acceptance and publication
- ❑ AI-Assisted SCI Paper Editing

Special Slot D: Pearl River Night Cruise

- On November 10th, after the conference, guests will enjoy a night cruise on the Pearl River.

Special Slot E: Study Visit to Guangzhou Concord Cancer Center

Guangzhou Concord Cancer Center is a tertiary cancer specialty hospital, serving as an international cancer prevention and treatment center with a "five-in-one" structure encompassing clinical diagnosis and treatment, cancer prevention, medical research, specialized training, and teleconsultation. It is also the supporting unit of the Tumor Microenvironment Professional Committee of the Chinese Anti-Cancer Association.

Special Slot F: Outstanding Poster Display and Presentation Sharing

Posters will recognize outstanding authors to enhance participant engagement.

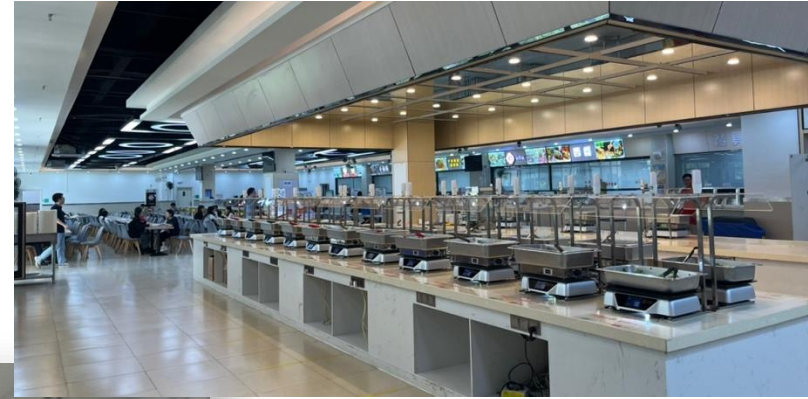

- The conference will establish an Excellent Paper Award for conference papers, and outstanding papers will have the opportunity to be published in Spandidos SCI journals. Additionally, there will be opportunities for on-site presentations.
